
11 [Painful but Truthful] Secrets from Evan Marc Katz that Explain [Why You're Single Still]

11. You don't understand how your actions look to him [AND fail to understand how you scare quality men away].
10. You assume a smooth dater signals a great partner, Mr. Right [BUT fail to realize great COURTSHIP doesn't equate to LONG-TERM COMPATIBILITY].
9. You blame men for being pigs (and yes, many are, I agree with you), you don't get why they don't see you as a "fine catch", then point out all the reasons it's their fault why you can't find the right man for you [BUT you don't take enough responsibility for not choosing the right guy nor accepting the right ones].
8. You think you understand what men want and all their intentions [BUT you actually don't- nor do you bother to learn].
7. You focus on the great guy who got away, the ex-boyfriend or husband and wonder Why He Disappeared [INSTEAD of getting back into the dating game].
6. You accept conditional love where you put up with issues that bother you to the core because you hope someday he will finally change and provide the love you need [INSTEAD of holding out for a man who offers you UNCONDITIONAL love].
5. You desire someone better than your last partner, a man who is passionate, decisive, energetic, driven [BUT you fail to realize the emotional price that comes with dating strong, successful men and feel disappointed once you date one- many tend to maintain a very busy schedule to keep up with their career's demands, travel out of town frequently, can be emotionally inattentive, bossy, they don't have patience to listen or pay attention to what matters to you- many prove to be selfish].
4. You look for an Alpha dog, successful man because you are a strong, successful woman [BUT many powerful, successful men are not looking for their equal- they want a low key woman who soothes them after a hard-day's work, not challenges them].

3. You carry a list of qualities you look for in men (like his type of job, his circle of friends, his style of clothes), you compare that list to all potential suitors and all men who take you out [INSTEAD of looking for the right man for you who you will get along with best].
2. You think great chemistry with a man determines a great partner [INSTEAD of paying attention to compatibility].
1. You want the guys who don't want you [INSTEAD of the men who do want you].
